LOCAL SOLDIERS THANK PEOPLE FOR RECEPTION

Letter Received From Boys
Prior To Their Departure
From Canada

Wainwright boys, members of the 40th battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, who, it is presumed will arrive in England to-day, addressed the following letter to the editor of this publication: "After the splendid reception given us by the people of Wainwright when we passed through on our way to the East, what has been expressed since by the battalion and ourselves, is that we must return the people, through your columns, our deep feelings of gratitude. Nothing but surprise was expressed by all of us and the crowd at the station was more than we would have expected had we passed in day-light. Boys of the battalion have congratulated us on many occasions since in the fact that we came from such a town as Wainwright. We are now leaving Ottawa after an inspection by the Duke of Connaught, General Hughes and Premier Borden. Where we are going we do not know, but will write an occasional letter for publication. Yours, 49th Wainwright boys."

Memorial Service To Colin Cattley Given On Sunday Evening

With a large congregation in attendance, a memorial service to the late Colin Cattley was held in St. Thomas' church on Sunday evening last. Preaching from the text: "There was no more sea," Rev. H. Assiter closed his sermon by referring to the loss which the community has suffered in the tragic death of Cattley. In part, he said as follows:

"To-day we are mourning the loss of one who we fear has gone down into the depths of that mighty sea which has claimed so many of earth's sons and daughters. One who was known and respected throughout the district through the whole of his six year's residence amongst us. "Colin Cattley was a man whom everybody trusted. There was nothing mean and contemptible in his dealings with his fellows and he possessed all the traits of a true man and a gentleman, and what is best of all, he was a christian gentleman."

"And the regret of his friends is intensified because of the circumstances attending his death. It were sad enough if he had passed away in an ordinary manner with friends saying "good bye," and afterwards laying his body to rest in the silent grave; how much more then when he departs this life far away from home and friends and dear ones, not laid to rest by loving hands. In the quiet little cemetery? No church bell sadly announced the passing of the soul, nor did God's minister commit his body to the ground in sure and certain hope.

"His end was compassed by the hand of an unscrupulous, ruthless, brutal murderer. Had it been a storm at sea which foundered the ship, or a submerged rock which sunk her, or a collision in a fog bank, we would commemorate his death with very different feelings, and we would say, as we said of the sinking of the "Titanic," that it was the act of God, but the disaster of the Lusitania was nothing less than the act of the devil. The crime stamps the responsible head—the Kaiser—as nothing less than the agent of the arch fiend."

"The sympathies of Colin Cattley's friends and neighbors and of his fellow members of this church, are with the relatives in their sad bereavement."

School News Given In Superintendent's Report For Month

The average attendance at the Wainwright Public schools during the month of May was 95.63, the class making the best average being that under the supervision of R. B. Bryden, which, with 25 scholars enrolled made an average of 96.10.

Principal Brodie's report for the month is an interesting one and in part is as follows:

"At the end of the month, scarlet fever made its third appearance during the year. This disease has made serious inroads on the school work since September last. In addition to the general feeling of uneasiness caused by its presence, several scholars have been attacked, who were planning to write at the Government examinations."

Dr. Miller's visit. The Provincial Director of Technical Education, in addition to his address at the Theatre made a tour of the school department and school grounds. He was particularly interested in the school gardens, as being one method of relating the mental training received inside the school room to the practical science of agriculture. His idea is not that a child shall receive a training sufficient to start him off as a scientific farmer, but to have it impressed on

H. BOSOMWORTH IS ORDAINED

Ordination services in connection with the Methodist church, were held in Edmonton on Sunday Morning. Seven young Clergymen were ordained formally, these including H. Bosomworth, who for the past few weeks, has acted as temporary minister of the local Methodist church.

SORROW CAUSED IN WAINWRIGHT BY DEATH OF MRS. J. E. DAVEY

Impressive Funeral Service Held In Presbyterian Church

News of the death of Mrs. J. E. Davey which occurred in an Edmonton hospital on Thursday last, cast a gloom of sorrow over Wainwright. Particularly sad was the death, especially so because Mrs. Davey, a young woman of but 23 years of age, gave up her life to bring into the world that of another—a tender offspring. The baby boy still lives.

Deceased was one of Wainwright's popular young women. A resident here of several years, she had assembled a large number of friends who learned of her demise with the utmost sympathy. She was married about a year ago, the event being attended by a host of friends. At this event, these friends encircled the then happy couple. They extended them the best of wishes for a pleasant journey through life. Many of them, less than a year later, attended the funeral of the young wife and mother, held in the Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon last.

Impressive in every detail was the funeral service. The church was filled to capacity with sympathizing friends, and when the service began with its words of reverence and hope, many a tear was shed not alone for the loss of a friend, but also for the young husband and father, left in a wilderness of sorrow.

The Rev. Thomas Murphy conducted the service with the assistance of Rev. S. A. Wallace, who not more than a year ago had united the young couple in marriage. To Mr. Wallace the service was particularly sad. It touched at the heart strings of all present and from him, with the thought in mind of the event of a few months ago, this last ceremony brought forth every sympathy.

The floral tributes were beautiful and were given by the mourning husband, Mrs. W. E. Washburn, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Washburn, the Daughters of the Empire, of which the deceased was a member; The G. H. Beaudry Company, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Gerow, Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, Miss Florence Bisson and a floral tribute by a number of deceased's lady friends.

The STAR has purchased specially for ladies visiting cards, a quantity of new type. Ask to see samples of work.

Mrs. William Ranica wishes to thank all friends for the many kindnesses extended to her during her recent bereavement.

For the purpose of attending the court sessions in Edmonton P. E. Ross left town on Saturday afternoon.

Accompanied by his parents whom he met in Edmonton, Harry A. Cook left Wainwright for Banff on Sunday last. He expects to be away several weeks.

Mr. James E. Davey and Mr. and Mrs. Washburn wish to publicly express their appreciation of the great kindness and the loving sympathy shown them in their recent bereavement.

FARMERS WANT TO GAIN MORE POWER FOR TRANSACTION OF LEGISLATION ALONG U.F.A. LINES

"We find that many of our members are sick and tired of party politics and impatient to gain more real power to influence legislation along the lines of U.F.A. principles". The preceding is a portion of the contents of a circular being sent to U.F.A. unions within the province and, at a meeting of the local U.F.A. held on Saturday last, a resolution was passed which calls for the holding of a meeting locally for the purpose of appointing delegates to a convention that will be called later by the central office. This meeting will be held in Wainwright at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 19th, when a full discussion will take place in regard to the advisability of appointing Independent U.F.A. political candidates for the forthcoming elections. The circular further sets forth that: "We must acknowledge that while we exert some influence in regard to provincial legislation, we seem to be almost powerless at Ottawa, whether we are living under a Conservative or a Liberal government. A number of our members are coming to the conclusion that they will not vote on either side in this coming election, which would be a very unhealthy thing in our public life". "It appears to the executive, that the first step to take must be to find out more clearly what is the real interest taken among our members in this question, and what kind of political action the majority desires to take". This last sentence defines the reason for the proposed convention and also that for the calling of the Wainwright meeting at which delegates for the convention will be appointed. The matter of deciding upon a meeting place for the convention will be left in the hands of the central office.

WEATHER CAUSES POSTPONEMENT OF SCHOOL SPORTS

Inclement weather on Thursday last caused a postponement of the military sports which were to have been held on the school grounds during the afternoon. The concert and dance, however, were held in the evening and despite the rain, attracted a fairly large crowd. These functions were greatly enjoyed by those in attendance.

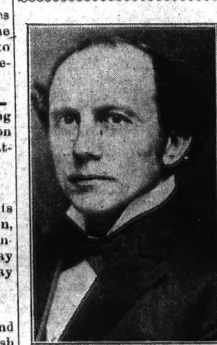

Under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire, the concert opened at 8.30 o'clock with the Citizens' Band giving a selection which went to prove in no uncertain manner, the advancement made by the band during the past few months. This was followed by a patriotic tableaux given by the Girl Guides and Cadets. Although faulty lighting effects marred the attractiveness of this portion of the program, those taking part did admirable work.

The presentation of the flag to the Girl Guides was made by Mrs. H. Y. Pawling, regent of the local chapter of the D of E. The reply of thanks by Miss Hazel Brunner was given in a masterful way.

The speaker of the evening was James C. Miller, B. Sc., Ph. D., provincial director of technical education, who, in addition to praising the work of the Wainwright school pupils, addressed the parents and told of the importance that should be placed in the mental and physical development of the child, the greatest asset the country possessed.

D. W. HANSEN CHOSEN WEED INSPECTOR

Secretary D. W. Hansen of L. I.D. No. 423 has been officially appointed weed inspector for the district. As is usual in the majority of cases, this position which is accompanied with very little remuneration, is given to the secretary, who, following the receipt of a complaint in regard to noxious weeds, makes an inspection and takes the necessary action. The general procedure is that when a resident finds noxious weeds within his community, that this resident lay information with the councillor of his division, who in turn, communicates with the inspector. The latter is only paid for the time spent in making the inspection.

FLOUR AND FOOD WILL PROVE AS BIG FACTORS IN WAR AS WILL SHOT AND SHELL

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, Britain's new minister of munitions, has commenced his campaign of appeal to employers and workman for an adequate supply of munitions with which the British Army may carry on its war to a successful conclusion. His address in Manchester on Thursday evening of last week, in which he practically inaugurated his campaign, will add further chapters in the history to follow that will claim David Lloyd George as one of Britain's greatest men.

Speaking before employers in the engineering trades and trade unionists, Mr. Lloyd George fully pointed out what had been consequences of the past to a shortage in the supply of war munitions. He declared that the German victory in Galicia was due to an overwhelming superiority in equipment and said that if the allies' west had been as well equipped, the Germans would long ago have been driven from France and Belgium. With these facts generally known, surely the minister's appeal to the British heart will bring about the desired result.

To these employers, David Lloyd George said he came as an emissary of state to carry the most urgent message ever told to a Manchester audience. Our country is fighting for its life and for the liberties of Europe, and upon what it is supposed to sacrifice, depends the issue. David Lloyd George appeared before that Manchester audience to tell the truth. This is what he said: "IT DEPENDS MORE UPON THE MASTERS AND MEN RUNNING WORKSHOPS THAN ANY PART OF THE COMMUNITY WHETHER GREAT BRITAIN WILL EMERGE FROM THE COLOSSAL STRUGGLE BEATEN, HUMILIATED, STRIPPED OF POWER, HONOR AND INFLUENCE, OR A MERE BONDSLAVE OF CRUEL MILITARY TYRANNY; OR WHETHER IT WILL COME OUT TRIUMPHANT, FREE AND MORE POWERFUL THAN EVER FORGOOD IN THE AFFAIRS OF MEN."

Is there anyone giving the matter thought who will doubt these words of the minister of munitions. Britain cannot, no matter how good her men might be within the firing line, no matter how much they preserve their glorious traditions of the past, expect that her men will carry the good old flag to victory unless these men are equipped with the best to carry on their fight. As the minister said: "We may as well send our men to face shrapnel and howitzers armed with picks and shovels as merely to go through the war with the industrial army organized, equipped and armed with the ordinary shifts and experiments of peace."

His statement that Britain had enlisted men who would have rendered better service at home, carries with it a local application in that men of Canada, farmers from off the land, have joined the colors when they could have rendered far more service individually had they stayed at home and placed their land—now lying idle—under the operation of the plow and sower. There is no doubt in the world about this and in the minds of many, it would have been far better for the government to have rejected these farmer volunteers when they offered their services. Individually they could have done far more for the Empire by working their land, than they can do individually by shouldering a rifle.

If the war is going to be waged as long as many presume, flour and food will prove as big factors in its successful termination as will shot and shell.

THE ENEMY WITHIN OUR GATES

"WHEN WE READ OF CANADIAN soldiers being crucified, poisoned, stabbed or beaten to death as they lie helpless on the battlefield, it is not surprising that dejection of everything German floods our minds."

The foregoing is the opening paragraph in a recent leading editorial of the Vancouver World. Indeed, it is not surprising that to the Canadian heart the word "German" is accompanied with a feeling of loathsomeness. Such calculated cruelty, such scientific infliction of agonizing death, revolts us as do the crimes of the Spanish Inquisitors.

And when with this feeling comes, the thought that in Canada, Germans and Austrians, the friends and fellow countrymen of the perpetrators of such deeds, have hitherto been allowed freedom and full liberties to carry on their usual occupations, to read their own newspapers full of libels, by the way, on British and Canadian soldiers—and to live their ordinary lives under the law, it is only natural that we should cry out against it.

The Star does in the slightest degree, believe that an injustice should be brought to bear upon the Germans living a quiet and orderly life in Canada. Indeed, there are many Germans within our bounds at the present time who are thoroughly in accord with British sympathies. But the Star, like the Vancouver World, would remind our people that we are entitled to protect ourselves against enemies; we must remember we owe a duty to our citizens whose sons have perished beneath the poisonous blais of German murderers.

We should, therefore, see that any German or Austrian who, in conduct or conversation, lays himself open to suspicion, is promptly interned. This, as much for his own safety as for the safety of the country whose forbearance he flouts.

NOTES AND COMMENT

We are told that Calgary's situation is "quiet but healthy" and that those who are endeavoring to reap a livelihood through dealing in stocks, are finding the going tough these days. But it is said the drilling process so far, has met with sufficient results to give encouragement to those interested. Drilling there, should be continued with patience and tenacity. It seems a pity though, that the dear word "Anticline" should have dropped so completely from everybody's vocabulary. It does not seem that the word has been treated at all fairly. A few months ago it fell from the lips of old and young. Now it is forgotten by all. To be relegated in such a manner, especially after such popularity, must indeed be hard.

THREE GERMAN KINGS

Rulers Over Millions Are Subordinate to the Kaiser

Wilhelm II., King of Prussia, in his position as German Emperor, is overlord of the other kings of Germany that we know, least eight of their existence. The King we hear of is the King of Prussia, who also bears the title of Deutscher Kaiser and in whom is vested the supreme direction of the military and political affairs of the empire.

It was the successes of the German armies in 1870 that removed every obstacle to the carrying into effect that union of Germany which had been the dream of enthusiasts for years, not the least among these enthusiasts being Bismarck. The fact that the victories gained had been the direct result of German unity of action under the guidance of Prussia, forced itself on the mind of every thinking man in Germany.

Various small concessions demanded by several states to save their dignity were granted, but the principal articles—those especially which demanded one diplomatic representation, one assembly for all the states of the union, and one supreme command of the army—were insisted upon by Prussia. Its chief was to be the King of Prussia, with the title of German Emperor. Thus—particularly since the beginning of the great war—we have heard much of the king who reigns over Prussia with its area of 124,616 square miles and its population of 40,165,219. But there are still other kings in Germany—those are them—their titles unchanged though their power may be less great than in the old days.

Ludwig III. reigns over the German kingdom of Bavaria with its 29,292 square miles and 5,887,291 population. Ludwig III., now seventy years of age, became regent in succession to his father, Prince Ludwig, who died December 12, 1912, and he was proclaimed king on Nov. 6, 1913, in succession to his cousin, King Otto, who was declared incapable of ruling owing to mental infirmity. The king's name, Prince Rupprecht, is now commanding a German army.

Over the kingdom of Wurtemberg with its 7,834 square miles and 2,487,574 population reigns Wilhelm II. who is now in his sixty-seventh year. He is the son of the late Prince Friedrich of Wurtemberg and succeeded to the throne on the death of Karl I. Oct. 6, 1891. The king is now with his troops in the field.

Frederick Augustus III. reigns over the kingdom of Saxony with its 5,739 square miles and 4,306,651 population. He is fifty years of age and is the son of the late King George and succeeded to the throne on the death of his father, Oct. 15, 1904. He was married in 1891 to Princess Louise of Tuscany, but the marriage was dissolved in 1903. The king occasionally visited his troops in the trenches in Russia.

SOLDIER'S NIGHTMARES

Dreams of Live Shells and Night Alarms Disturb Fighters' Rest

The terrible strain imposed on the nerves of fighting men, which nowadays is rendered greater by the deafening explosion of high-powered shells, causes soldiers, and especially those wounded, to suffer from torturing nightmares. An ambulance worker who has studied the subject of soldiers' nerves states that a common form of nightmare is for a soldier to dream that he is wandering through endless trenches as complicated as an artificial maze, or that he is sliding his way through forests whence all but him had fled. At night the slightest noise during sleep calls up visions of exploding shells or the tramp of armed men to the unversed soldier, and he will cry out in terror, although when actually in the firing line he displays great courage. Dreams of night alarms trouble his sleep, and in this connection the soldier has terrifying visions of being unable to find his clothes or weapons when the imaginary call to arms riles across his troubled brain.
Another common night terror to the soldier is to dream that a live shell is lying in his bed and about to burst, and with such nightmares the victim imagines himself powerless to move his limbs in getting rid of the projectile.
One of the most terrible nightmares which afflicts the nerve-shattered soldier is that in which he imagines that he is unable to withdraw his bayonet from an enemy's body, although he desires to use it to keep off menacing forms all around him.

Won Coveted French Honor
Private A. V. Sworn, R.A.M.C., was only seventeen years old when he won the Legion of Honor, and is the youngest soldier on whom the decoration has been bestowed. It was awarded to him for saving a French officer under fire.

The first through train running over the Grand Trunk Pacific railway from Prince Rupert, passed through Wainwright on Monday.

The baseball fan will enjoy recalling Shakespeare's line, "For the rain it raineth every day." It may also give tennis enthusiasts a little consolation.

Temperance People Warn the Public to Beware of Coercion, Bullying, Intimidation, Misrepresentation

Coercion

Temperance People have taken advertising away from many newspapers in the province because the papers sold advertising space to opponents of the Liquor Act.

Bullying and Intimidation

Temperance people including ministers of the gospel, have approached papers in this province and told them that if they did not publish temperance campaign propaganda free of charge the would have said papers boycotted out of existence after July 21.

Misrepresentation

Temperance workers declare that the Liquor Act is prohibition. Then, back in the foreign settlements they are telling the foreign element that the Liquor Act means five cent beer.

The opponents of the Liquor Act call upon the public to read the Act and prove for themselves that it means: Dangerous Legislation, class legislation, removals protection of interests, places liquor in the same category with Indians; encourages illegal selling of liquor; brings heavy financial losses without recompense; creates a powerful political machine; entails an immediate loss in revenue to the province; creates an additional expenditure for the department of justice; does not protect the travelling public, or the resident public; it is ridiculous, unfair, and will encourage hypocrisy, deceit and bigotry.

"School Closing—I learn that the Edmonton and Calgary schools are to close June 25th this year. I suppose the Board will wish to settle tonight the date of closing for Wainwright. I have accepted, subject to the approval of the Board, the duties of deputy examiner at Holden, examining centre, to start June 25th. The following week I will be in Edmonton on the examining board."

"Girl Guides and Cadets—In the last few weeks these organizations have appeared in public on three occasions. In spite of unfavorable weather, the showing has been very encouraging. I take this opportunity of thanking on behalf of the Guides and Cadets, those members of the board who so generously contributed the prizes for the signalling competition on the King's birthday."

Jarrow

Well Jeff, where are you with your interesting items? It's time you were getting busy. Apparently it's up to Matt to keep this little town from going entirely in the background.

A very interesting game of baseball was served up on the Echo Diamond Saturday afternoon, and the big holiday crowd thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings. The Jarrow Stars defeated the Echo Badgers 19-10. Both teams were on their toes, showing all kinds of life and pep, and the nine innings were played off in an hour and a half. We'll say "well done" boys. With a "little" more practise you will be able to challenge "anything" on the G. T. line.

Mr. Nighingale's place was acceptably filled by Mr. A. Moore on Sunday last.

Mr. H. Haynes of Sunny Dale, left on Tuesday for a visit to California.—Matt.

Later announcements will tell of Wainwright's "dollar week." Watch for them. They will be worth while.

Special services will be held by the Presbyterian church on Sunday, At the Autumn Leaf school, church will be held at 11 a. m., preacher, Guy H. Kent. At the Wildmere school at 11 a. m., A. Crowther Smith will be the speaker while at the Heather Belt school at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the address will be given by Alex Morrison, Sr.

The Star has acquired a splendid assortment of new type. It is an exceptional collection and contains the best known styles in letters. Included are the requisites for the printing of stylish business cards, letter heads and the like. When in need of business cards or visiting cards, the Star management will be glad to show you its quality of work.

WHAT DO THE PENITENTIARIES SHOW?

The promoters of the Liquor Act wax very eloquent over the amount of drunkenness in Alberta. They, however, seem to assume a good deal and the words "probable total number of drunks" and so many other offenses are to be attributed to liquor. Now assumptions are all very good, but plain facts are better, and for this reason we would ask the reader to turn for a moment to the "Report from the Minister of Justice on the Penitentiaries of Canada for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1913. Printed by order of parliament." This is the last report that we have before us and it reveals some mighty interesting figures as will be seen by the following quotations.

To enable the matter to be more clearly understood we show the following table: Comparative statement of convicts in the undersigned Penitentiaries for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1913.

	Whole of Canada per cent.	Dorchester Prison for Maritime Provinces and Prince Edward Island per cent.	Alberta per cent.
Abstainers.....	14.46	20.51	14.97
Temperate.....	28.84	42.16	28.59
Intemperate.....	56.70	37.33	56.44

These figures show Alberta in an extremely favorable light as regards the rest of the Dominion in the matter of Intemperate Convicts.

As far as the Maritime Provinces are concerned the record at Dorchester Penitentiary in 1913 showed over 34 per cent more Intemperate convicts than in the case of Alberta. If prohibition prohibits how does this state of matters come about? As a matter of fact Dorchester's average of Intemperate Convicts was 2 per cent more than the average for the whole Dominion. Alberta without prohibition, had the distinction of having in 1913 the smallest number of Intemperate Convicts than in any penitentiary of the Dominion. Can you try to beat this record?

Where is the evidence in the Dorchester prison that prohibition prohibits? Convicts came from all the three provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island. Upon the same parallel the adoption of the Liquor Act would cause more serious crime in Alberta. Why disturb the status quo? Satisfactory arrangement? Keep your position intact by voting out the Liquor Act on July 21st.—Adv.

Crops in Wainwright district are reported to be making exceptionally good progress.
